

Aldenicum The Trilogy

Avropa Karabasan

2009-2010

Disclaimer:

Aldenicum is a fictitious word invented by Avrupa Karabasan that obviously stands for the 'Apocrypha' meaning. At the same time, it is a long form fantastic poem written by him, which is meant to give the reader a picture of reality from rather different (alternative) points of view. Aldenicum poem consists of three parts called Genesis, Inferno, and Eitsehore Eggs respectively. Composed in the English Language (due to its internationality) the poem is supposed to be comprehensible for everyone from all over the globe.

Aldenicum Part One.

Genesis.

1.0

There is the greatest mystery of fleeting life, which is meant to be told and heard on this frail Earth Sometimes it is feeling like a real punishment, once man was made to accept as well as carry on Therefore, it nags at his troubled mind by causing him to put forth questions such as these: 'Who am I?
Where do I come from? And the most important of which is: where am I finally going to come to rest?'

1.1

The answers, however, are still kept hidden, to be partially revealed later in time
By certain superior creatures living out there, called controllers they are watching over us from above,
On this solid ground we must appear rather helpless, roughly resembling a huge mound of ants Continuously seeking something significant that none of us can fully comprehend.

1.2

Once upon a time, there was a vastly sophisticated race of highly developed and complicated life forms Existing among many other civilizations and worlds somewhere out there, in the eternal Universe They were neither good nor bad, because such a measure is quite obsolete as people should realize When it is taken into account in the light of intergalactic time and space terms.

1.3

Once they were given a promising offer by almighty God himself, that they should never give up The Creator wished them to come a bit closer to himself as a result of the universal law of the Highest Expediency, Thus God proposed them to upgrade themselves by becoming more unified and taking a step upward Most of them agreed; after leaving their home space, they moved on toward the residence of God.

1.4

A minority of the race was in a disagreement with the decree, however, wishing to preserve their own structure, They decided not to climb that one level up and leave all things as they were before that moment Therefore, this sophisticated race asked God not to insist, they were content with what they already had Nevertheless, they gained His anger and were cursed once they refused that divine offer.

1.5

Having been punished, they were sent down deep and were obligated to begin a new living inside of The place that a lot of civilizations start from, as in the beginning, before their unavoidable upward climb A great amount of time passed thereafter, before an incredible idea was born on their brilliant minds Playing God was rather easy for them, as most parts of their capabilities did stay on their own side.

1.6

The planet, they settled on, proved to be a half-intelligent one that could easily support any biological life Letting it improve and adjust its conditions, they helped with creating first, complex living organisms After a while, the planet became filled with different creatures interacting and reproducing of their own accord There was something missing in them, however, the absence of true intelligence working wonders.

1.7

They finally managed to find the proper means to obtain what was really required called 'magic seeds' To continue to work on their secret experiment, they truly desired to bring to the light of existence Having divided those 'magic seeds' across the planet according to their thoughts and plans, the race made it easy For the seeds to make a free search that would be totally up to their own decisions and choice.

1.8

Another eon of years passed, but the race could wait as it always did on this time-line backstage Numerous local life forms happened to be destroyed and murdered by those exacting 'magic seeds', At the beginning it seemed sad and hopeless; some species of apes, however, were able to survive By giving birth to offspring different from their ancestors; besides all the apes went through genetic surgeries.

1.9

As a result, those apes that did survive started slowly transforming in body as well as in mind, becoming intelligent The 'magic seeds' functioning inside them began to change their consciousness, improving it without limits Unfortunately, even though they now possess a recorded history of the last five thousand years, people are still unaware Of how a great many things looked earlier in prehistoric periods, a long time before these modern ages came into being.

2.0

Suddenly each around the planet and this race became alarmed, they all also had something to realize To get worried about these newest progressing creatures, who were in a speedy development now, Therefore, they began to discuss whether they should clean them up to the fullest once and for all The reason was the survivors possessed a very unique type of intelligence, one without any limitations.

2.1

After a long term of discussions and arguments occurring over this strange, but promising form of life There was a contract released issuing this and signed up accordingly by all those on interested sides Strictest control over this new civilization was to be established and carried out in all time thereafter, The planet was then turned into a giant prison for those, who ever objected to almighty God's wish and respect.

2.2

Creatures were brought back to the planet again after dying, according to the matter of reincarnation Specially designed for recently sentenced aliens initially inhabiting lots of different civilizations and worlds, They were sent to this planetary prison from all the farthest reaches of the universe existing on the same level, Each was now equal in appearance in this jail, no matter if one was truthfully guilty or innocent.

2.3

Our rapidly progressing apes were doomed to be partially exterminated by disasters artificially made on a regular basis Due to reaching a significant level of intelligence; doing so they became quite dangerous for that highly advanced race As a reliable solution to the challenge, special mental filters had been installed in their minds To prevent them from developing unlimited intelligence and forcing them to stay sleeping all their fleeting lives.

2.4

It turned out the apes have not been the only sort of creatures to start and progress to new life forms since then The 'magic seeds' picked up some types of serpents, also trying to convert them into clever ones To the great surprise of many other races watching over the planet since the beginning of time Some of those serpents proved to be able to give birth to promising offspring that could also survive.

2.5

The serpents chosen become much more advanced in comparison to the apes on the time-line backstage Because there had been no installed barriers in their minds preventing them from acquiring knowledge Another highly intelligent race of a reptilian sort arriving from a distant part of the universe noticed them Having taught these local serpents, they later turned them into supervisors on this fragile place.

2.6

Meanwhile, these two cultures are still living on the same globe, sharing same air and territory As a rule, the race of former apes is mostly unaware of those incredibly smart and crafty serpents Should we say that the intelligent apes were evolutionarily converted slowly into modern humans?
And the serpents are now those, who have kept us under tight control on this earthly layer ever since.

2.7

There were hybrid forms coming out through acts of crossbreeding between mankind and reptiles They left notable tracks in history as they were always the greatest impostors and leaders, Having been secretly integrated into different human societies by certain and highly shadowy players They were supposed to lead and direct people to directions and places desirable for our controllers.

2.8

The hybrids (half-people, half-snakes), quickly took over the planet and began to rule it in human terms Human-like but reptilian inside, such half-blood personalities have existed since ancient times till modern ones They were always able and allowed to receive much strength, necessary camouflage and support from Their very reptilian background, it has also been by means of enslavement of ordinary people around.

2.9

Their primary aim is to treat all of us as a pure slave, since the birth right up to the physical death It is rather well-known that the financial system based on usury, was just that perfect tool to be used As a smart way to collect up all goods of the entire world at certain hands without brutal forces being applied, But by lending money at interest to others; in other words this means a robbery of all the peoples worldwide.

3.0

They usually attempt to pervert it all, and to say lies, and to look to others as they actually never are To hide from public attention what is being simply false and therefore, that should never be tried on A white thing they are going to call black; something that is true, they claim as being a lie and etc, It is done to make our minds totally mixed up by deceiving us into believing in what they so desire.

3.1

Such various parasitic forms of hidden and absolutely other kind inhabiting under covers of humanity Became used to existing for a long time using our vital energy and even some of that very specific type:
A type of energy being produced when one is tortured and doomed to suffer by slowly dying Because of fake medicine, drugs, wars, stresses each is obligated to face in this pre-destined life.

3.2

An infinite number of victims have been brought to the altar of sacrificed fire since the first crossbreeding
For the sake of survival of those manipulating creatures, which now are loathe to exist separately From us, manipulated and fooled human beings, this invisible slavery cannot go on this way forever
This is because everything in the universe is known to have both a beginning and an eventual end.

3.3

A very incredible and important turning point is coming closer now that seems somewhat like a roundabout
Not everyone is able to come it through as infectious life will not be allowed to be brought out there Those forms (which control us) will either be partly cleaned up or stopped completely before their passing Therefore, each one is believed to be given equal chances at that great and remarkable moment.

3.4

Man is still blind and frightened into a fit with his wings tied and lost expectations for a better fate
They use us as food holding humans there, where they are currently kept in this untouchable prison
The chain of our souls is never going to be broken, however, as our spirits were designed to be perfect Humans have to survive against all odds; they are not yet ready to receive all of their freedom, though.

3.5

At this point of stage the first part is finally coming to an end, it is by no means the end of Aldenicum
In fact, the past of man has already been enlightened enough and the same goes for his nearest future
That has to be expecting to touch and treat everyone easy or hard in this approaching period
There is no knowledge available as life is now almost ready to rid itself of its current pre-destined status.

3.6

Everything is going to be flexible enough to vary from infernal scenarios of global disasters
That are believed to concern the majority of people by erasing most of them from this solid layer Right up to the existence resembling the lost paradise described in many sacred texts of major religions Which humans possessed once, but later they were all made to give up and eventually forget.

Aldenicum Part Two.

Inferno.

1.0

Since the beginning of the human race, there has been hidden knowledge kept secret to be learned once by those, Currently dealing with deadly sins, in order for them to foresee the future, receiving a chance of proper preparation Primarily concerning the structure of the underworld that a sinner is supposed to see in person Shortly after his present mission on Earth will finally be over, when his time is up.

1.1

Dependant as we are on our life today, it does matter where we are sent to, after we naturally happen to die
By leaving our weakened and destroyed physical bodies, this process is said to take place exactly When breathing is ended and the brain is not working, someone's mission is eventually over Nothing left for him to do on this solid ground, even if he thinks he deserves extra time to live.

1.2

It is the saddest moment when beloved ones are gone, but death is a part of fleeting human life
It seems like another matter or aspect implemented by highly divine powers - the architectures Soul or hollow body goes on to exist forever as current living is never limited by rude environment, Indeed, the true mystery of our lives is said to be belonging to energy and spiritual layers instead.

1.3

Souls are still allowed to come back again to say goodbye to their worn out and mortal covers Within no more than Three Days since the moment of passing away, but only if they so wish Once time is up, they are immediately called to turn, as there is another period starting for them Requiring time up to the Fortieth Day, when guardians decide what souls should do in the afterlife.

1.4

The most awful truth is that people have almost no freedom of choice when entering this cruel world
As some of you might have already realized this planet is a giant as well as untouchable prison
In other words, much is depending on what we are doing now, when there is yet much time ahead Therefore, life seems beautiful until we feel lucky, joyful, and free to celebrate it on our own.

1.5

Much is predestined, looking like a perverted and invisible game that is not a fair play however, Among numerous human rights, there is also a right to ignore the truth, so most people follow it blindly 'Accepting truth as it actually is' that is prerogative of the strongest philosophers by spirit and Seekers of life, who are not brainwashed sheep being led by the shepherd directly to the butcher.

1.6

Our existence is located somewhere at the middle of layers representing a sort of spectrum The Ultra part of which stands for what is called Heaven or Paradise by major religions and beliefs Developed by men during their spiritual growth throughout the passing centuries, while they lived In different parts of this globe, discovering and building up with time the entire earthly civilization.

1.7

The Infra part of the spectrum is what is called Hell or Infernal Purgatory where a sinned soul is to suffer, As well as to learn and pay off his debts due to the Karmic laws applied to each simply because We are all in this invisible prison, where do we actually go to,
for afterlife existence until we turn back?
It is not up to us to decide, we are going to be punished or awarded according to our personal bill called Karma.

1.8

People should realize, there are the nine layers of Infernal worlds going down meant to accept them If their ethereal bodies are heavy enough due to all sins they happened to commit on the sinful ground But there is always a harmony taking place in this weird and incomprehensible Universe, so that There is the same amount of the levels going up, welcoming people, in case they do deserve them.

This part attempts to open up a secret to everyone by telling him what is going to happen, When his heart is no longer beating and the time is right to move on for further living, up or down there Its information is meant to help him foresee and become prepared to know what he is going to meet later, If his Karmic baggage proves overloaded, since current life by no means ends with this illusive materiality.

2.0

On the first layer of the purgatory spaces, there is a place resembling our world, but without mercy, Society - without any embellishment: colorless landscapes, lead grey seas with sadness felt All around in the air; sickly grass, stunted shrubs and mosses resemble to some extent our tundra, Even tundra, however, is covered with flowers sometimes; the soil of this layer never nurtured a single flower.

2.1

Residential places of millions of those, who used to once be humans, are now scary looking hollows Located amongst low, but insuperable slopes, this underworld is said to know no love and no hope, No joy, no art, no religion, it has never even seen children;
endless work is interrupted only for sleep, But even sleep is deprived of any attributes of dreams, as well as, of a sense of creativity.

Huge monsters, walking behind the sides of the slopes, throw piles of different objects Gliding through the air, they are moving directly to the punished ones with special tasks to be done Each of the items finds exactly the one, who is supposed to work over it, such boring actions as:
To fix a useless rag, to wash off dirty flasks smeared with oil, to clean metal fragments, et cetera.

2.3

Both work and sleep take place in long common huts, partitioned with the barriers up to the waist, The appearance of local inhabitants remains fully human, but features are washed and smoothed The greatest of relentless torments related to this world is a boredom appearing as hopeless slavery; It is an uninterrupted labor occurring here and absence of any chances to escape, whatever they may be.

2.4

If someone's Karma proves even heavier not to match this first and easiest purgatory layer, there is a black Giant ship, resembling a huge coffin, quickly and quietly floating toward the grey colored seashore To take a number of those, whose billing is meant to endure suffering at some deeper layers, After taking them, the ship immediately sets off on its way straight down to lower underworlds.

The next layer is believed to be similar to the previous one, but looking darker and more depressing As if it is frozen in limbo, a gloom on the border of eternal night, there are no buildings down there There are no crowds of men either, but everyone feels the invisible presence of many other neighbors As evidence of this, one can see traces of movements similar to footprints, proving their existence.

2.6

Those, who are still doomed to keep going even farther down, unexpectedly find themselves inside of A totally changed environment, where absolute silence reigns and darkness is spread all around Only local soil is slightly phosphorescent, there is also a slight presence of rare and sickly plants Nevertheless, this is known to be the last layer, on which only the simplest attributes of Nature do persist.

2.7

Anyone staying in this world is not able to perceive all the other inhabitants and is confident Of his own solitary state, this greatest loneliness embraces him like an iron shell
It is useless to rush, to pray, to call for help as each is given communion only with his own soul, For which, there will be nothing more frightening than witnessing this terrible solitude and silence.

2.8

Everyone here begins to realize clearly all the meaning and scope of the evil committed on Earth, So nothing can interrupt him from this endless dialog with himself, not even the struggle for existence Simply because there is no struggle at all, as food is said to be spread all around in abundance, There is still no sense of facilitations however, as meal is now replaced with some sorts of soil.

Clothing? In most sectors, including this very layer, the ethereal body itself emits tissues:

We use as our temporary clothes, for instance: in the worlds of Enlightenment, a.k.a Heaven,
They look beautiful and luminous, like they should accordingly be, but when it comes to the layers of purgatory,
The defectiveness of creativity, related to its inhabitants, can produce only ethereal rags and rubbish.

3.0

If someone's conscience is not yet cleansed, he is doomed to pass on to the next layer by feeling This process as a sudden and frightening downfall resembling a quagmire sucking him in:
Firstly his legs, then his torso, and finally his head all slowly disappear, until the body reaches a place Of black fumes, in which there are embedded black-and-mirror reflections of great cities of Earth.

3.1

This layer, like each of the purgatories, has no space length; therefore, there is no sun, no moon,
No stars in the cursed world, the sky itself is perceived as a solid body shrouded by constant night
Some objects shine by themselves, so does the ground, it looks frightening, as if it is soaked in blood,
There is an only one dominating color seen, a dark purple also called infrared part of the spectrum.

3.2

The appearance of those, fallen into this world, resembles to some extent shapes of wretched dwarves:
The humanity of these forms becomes too ugly and miserable, and growth is rather reduced Movements are intentionally slowed down, no material replacing clothes, their bodies do not emit tissues to do so In other words: no more clothing, which was put on them before, only helpless nudity that reigns.

3.3

One of the main agonies applied to this demonic layer is a sense of the greatest shame ever felt
As well as an impotent contemplation of one's own misery, and the third torment of those poor souls
Is the biggest fear generated by the presence of other creatures, predators with demonic nature:
Called Volgrami, their mission is a continuous hunting of the ugly dwarves, who were once humans.

3.4

In some places of the landscape, on the ground surface, there are bright holes like huge rotten spots, These are shine of another deeper layer, where everything is rotting, but which never dies until the end Men consume themselves with great sad and regret, their ethereal bodies become a sort of crap Movements are extremely limited while small humanoid demons are slowly devouring them.

3.5

On the next layer, the main torture is felt as self-cannibalism, in other words, it is like the suffering of cholera This is thought to be the very last layer, the landscapes of which roughly, but do resemble those Of our earthly towns; the last three and deepest purgatories are ruled by angels of darkness No more urbane vision and human-like appearance, those, who are down there, do not even deserve it.

The first of these layers is a slow stream, moving through an inexpressible and most gloomy world With a prisoner standing under the high arch, it is difficult to understand the origins of the half-light, Lifeless and colorless space, the smallest rain drops, sifting down on the flow, boil on the surface Ethereal clothes do not torment, as the soul itself is of a degraded ethereal body like smoky-brown tufts.

3.8

The mouth of the stream is seen very close to the flow, the world is breaking off at the exit a bit further on,
The water does not drain into anything, however; all is dissolving into the grey emptiness of pointless No body can persist out there; there is no hint of any soil or medium, but a spark of consciousness This is the layer of absolute illusion of terrible nothingness for those, who were once unbelievers.

3.9

The longing voluntarily leaves giving way to anxiety, he feels something leading him somewhere, Resembling moving straight down or sideways, when total lack of any guidance and advice Cannot help him understand, whether he is supposed to fall down slowly or fall with great speed Only the inner sense cries much louder than any evidence of logic, but even this cannot save him.

4.0

Finally he realizes, this is the irresistible fall straight into the red-hot, silent, as if – composed of iron - sea The downward moving is rapidly increasing, so he touches its red-hot surface and is slowly immersed By its environment, the agony is, except for the suffering of the burning flesh; a horror of sinking into eternal Torture, the most terrible aspect of such sinking is that this subsidence seems to him as irreversible.

4.1

Some might be wondering what, for instance, happen in the afterlife to those, who once preferred To pass by their own hand, they are said to reside somewhere at the middle layer being filled with Clammy fog, total loneliness and the saddest of all senses, such men have to experience their moment alone Moreover, such a lonely wandering lasts until their earthly lifetime would come to a natural end.

4.2

After this time-lag period is over, their Karmic duties will finally call on them by assigning for treatments, To the appropriate layers that are exactly deserved, when personal debts are fully paid off and left behind New incarnations are expected, in order for them to reenter this physically earthly layer one more time Therefore, the cycle of Samsara begins again, presenting them with new chances mixed with new sufferings.

Aldenicum Part Three.

Eitsehore Eggs.

1.0

At this point of stage, our long epic has finally reached the next and last chapter of its revelation, By giving us some pieces of truth about genesis, the structure of purgatory layers and human nature This time it takes a slight effort to unveil a new portion of knowledge primarily concerning those, Who are known to be rulers on this planet, whether they initially belong to this world or do not.

1.1

Men are blind while they are living their lives as slaves in the mode of continuous sleeping Not even realizing this fact, there are great amounts of highly intelligent and advanced creatures Using them for their hidden aims and intentions: as food and an almost infinite source of vital energy By integrating into human societies under the cover of human skins, or watching over us from above.

1.2

Those, wearing a humanoid appearance, are said to be surrogate ones, whose primary targets are:
Either to shepherd this worldwide herd of two legged sheep by 'cutting their hair' on a regular basis, Or even to replace people on Earth by providing this world with their own hidden interventionist teams Like avatar beings, who are hybrids resulting from ordinary humans and their actual species.

There are some sorts of non-human life forms wishing to keep the planet under their own strict control, Since this layer proves to be much richer in comparison to those, that some of them originate from It is the solid ground populated with rather narrow-minded people which makes it easy to do, The reason being that human minds are kept blocked by means of those so-called mental filters and hypnosis.

Since the ancient times until modern ones, there have been camouflaged hybrid forms brought to life Through acts of crossbreeding between most aggressive cave men and some alien races of intellectual reptiles On an energy level, the foreign, sophisticated reptilians inserted their special genetic code into that of humans In addition, such hybrids received various privileges related to that obsessive faith of being chosen by their gods.

So they started deceiving others into believing in what was needed for capturing foreign territories, Converting natural men into their own slaves, acting like true viruses or parasites spreading internationally By lending money at interest to others, such half-bloods made them firstly fooled and later thieves The peoples must be divided to be at conflicts with one another as it had been exactly instructed in their holy books.

1.6

Whenever wars occur among different nations on Earth, the hybrids always stand behind them on all sides By choosing a method of supporting all of them, they never lose the game, regardless of its end However, when warfare is over, a significant part of valuables previously belonging to war participants Disappears from the stage, only few can realize the valuables have actually been stolen by war initiators.

1.7

Their aim is to conquer the globe by owning each piece of it by all means, such that they will stop at nothing To make their devilish plans come true, since the creation of the first hybrid forms until the present moment Untold cruelties, unmeasured greed with endless deceit are their power to be used against others It is because they are no longer human, but reptilians inhabiting under covers of humanity.

1.8

Preferring to avoid all sorts of physical labor their beloved way of spending time is as managers Teaching, writing, entertaining, and trading with illegal methods and tricks are also their privileges Having put under control institutions of spreading news and propaganda all over this global world, Such hybrids came to pervert it all by telling as many lies in someone's ear as can be heard and believed.

1.9

The hybrids, who rule people after coming into the power, are said to be either latent homosexual Often mixed with psychological deviations, or at times appearing with even physically visible ugliness Facts are secretly kept, so that if one keeps searching for the truth, it may cost him his life, or at least He will be outlawed by authorities, isolated from all facilities, claimed as racist or simply killed.

This happens due to certain assumptions resulting in those several races of extraterrestrial reptiles Having been crossbred with men by changing their genes, such races also changed human attitude Concerning sex behavior, this is because the reptilians are believed to be hermaphrodites by nature As well as their matrix cannot perfectly fit that of humans, so this is the source of various deviations.

2.1

There are also creatures actually inhabiting another layer, dreaming of conquering ours, however, Never having initially belonged to this world, as their fate is to keep living deep underground Their own space is much poorer in comparison to ours, but having seen the Earth 'through our eyes' They must have decided to take it over by sending here their own half-blood and surrogate agents.

Possessing a very high intelligence, their senses of kindness and humanity are not developed at all Their sense of mercy is also almost close to none, humans cannot prevent them from invading So ordinary women began to give birth to strange children, hard in communication, brilliant in mind None really knows how to treat them, wrongly considering these children a new generation of humanity.

2.3

Such an assumption has some sense, however, as men are slowly being changed by influence of That underworld race, which 'set its eye on our planet', thus the children are simply their own avatars Brought to the light of existence by means of experiments on the human genome performed by them As a result, the avatar children's mission is to take over this layer by replacing us slowly in the upcoming years.

Unfortunately, the absolute majority of humans is still unaware of that hidden menace resulting from Such strange kids, whose aura colors are definitely different from those of ordinary pure people Numerous hypotheses (from which articles were written) were developed, issuing them as a phenomenon, Some consider the children to be our future saviors; however, nothing could be further from the truth.

2.5

It should be said, there are two main groups fighting for Earth, the hybrids and the genius children Different races are known to stay behind them: these are the reptilians with the underworld nation Having nearly an equal amount of power and intelligence, both of them have achieved an agreement Resulting in dividing the land and sphere of influence, they use humans with all possible methods.

2.6

It would not be a full story, if we had not mentioned the third group seeking its own interests on this ground
Unlike the two previous ones, this is the most sophisticated creature, capable of living everywhere Looking like a distributed network, it is said to be charged with the duty of controlling the layer and everyone on it True, immortal, with unmeasured capabilities, the network exists partly by virtue of enslaved mankind.

2.7

There had been several natural catastrophes and disasters brought to life almost on a regular basis In order for the above layers to hold this one in fear, as well as, under the control of global lies and illusions
The cataclysms have already happened on Earth four times, resulting in mass extinctions of human beings As a rule, only few were lucky enough to survive to create new generations of people.

2.8

There is some sacramental knowledge of ancient civilizations living a long time before the modern age of humanity Thought to be kept secret over thousands of years, perfectly stored in different parts of the globe, Preserved for future posterity, such data is said to contain certain wonders ordinary people have not seen yet The hybrids with the demonic nation try to gain this knowledge; however, the network does not let it happen.

Even the greatest and best chosen scientists, who have ever written their names down in the book of history, Proved actual avatars pretending to be humans, or people, whom those shadowy powers initiated Nevertheless, when independent explorers do achieve such a level of understanding or discovery Undesired by the network and the other big players, they usually pass away unexpectedly.

3.0

Thinking men should realize the fact that numerous historical events ever heard, Popularized opinions and explanations ever brought to the mainstream from official points of view Have been incorrect or banally fabricated and replaced by the rulers, who are no longer true humans With new versions and visions that are so necessary for them according to their own perspectives.

3.1

Thus, do not trust anyone, unless the matter of your trust agrees with your own inner common sense, It is your heart that already knows if something is true or a lie, even if your mind has yet to be opened Written for the reader as a long-form poem or revelation,

Aldenicum is said to be a fantastic story Each will find, however, only as much truth in it as his personal comprehension allows him to understand.
